RAVALLI COUNTY 911 CENTER

The Bitterroot valley is defined by two mountain ranges. The Sapphire Mountains border the eastern boundary and the Bitterroot Mountains border the entire western boundary. The Bitterroot River runs through the center of the valley.

RAVALLI COUNTY 911 CENTER

Hamilton is the county seat and is located in the central part of the county. The county includes the incorporated cities of Stevensville, Pinesdale, Hamilton and Darby. Florence, Victor, Corvallis, Grantsdale, Conner and Sula are also located in our county.

Ravalli County has both the Lolo and the Bitterroot National Forests dominating the majority of our county. The Lolo has 8,884 acres in the county, and the Bitterroot has 1.1 million acres in our county. This provides a great opportunity for outdoor recreation.
